
Chris Gothard

College Fair/College Night Committee
Chair

Chris Gothard is the Senior Assistant Director for Transfer Admission at James Madison University (JMU), where he plays a crucial role in guiding transfer students through the admissions process. A JMU graduate, Chris earned his BA in Political Science in 2019 and graduated with distinction from the Honors College. In addition to his role at JMU, Chris serves as Chair of the College Fair Committee for the Potomac & Chesapeake Association for College Admission Counseling (PCACAC), where he helps organize and lead key events to connect students with educational opportunities. His dedication to both JMU and the broader admissions community reflects his commitment to creating access to higher education and supporting student success.
