
Rachel Cleaver

President

Rachel Cleaver has worked in the college access and success space for twenty years and currently serves as the Senior Associate Director of K12 Partnerships at George Mason University. In this role, she creates and maintains partnerships that promote college access and success both on Mason's campus and in the community at large. Previously, Rachel led college success initiatives at two nonprofits, Let's Get Ready in New York City and the Hoop Dreams Scholarship Fund in Washington, DC. Rachel has a strong passion for social justice issues learned from and supported by a family of protesters and fighters for equality. She is a graduate of the Peabody School of Education at Vanderbilt University and holds a Master's in Public Administration from George Mason University.
