

Pathways to the Future: Skills, Jobs, and Careers for Students

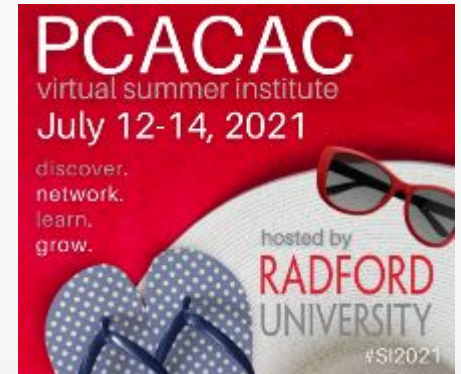

Welcome to PCACAC's
Virtual 18th Annual
Summer Institute

C4

July 13, 2021

FACULTY

Dr. Melloney Johnson
School Counseling Coordinator melloney_johnson@ccpsnet.net
Matoaca High School (VA)

David J. Hamilton
Director of College Advising dhamilton@smrhs.org
St. Mary's Ryken (MD)

Learning Objectives

1

- Create a framework for counselors to use when working with students when it comes to career pathways.

2

- Discuss necessary skills students need for the 21st Century along with possible jobs and career arcs.

3

- Provide resources on this topic for counselors to share with students.

Participation time!

- <https://padlet.com/dhamilton54/a4qec1ewyf8dp7ay>

Why this session?

- Surveys show anywhere from 25% to 40% of workers are thinking about quitting their jobs.
- Axois report: 9.3 million jobs open now.
- A definitive need for perception to match reality.

Skills

- Talking with students about these fundamentals.
- See reports from World Economic Forum, McKinsey & Company, and the Lumina Foundation. Valued skills? Digital, self-leadership, cognitive, and interpersonal.

Job Options/Prospects

- The average person will have 12 jobs during their lifetime.
- U.S. Bureau of Labor and Statistics (www.bls.gov) and the Occupational Outlook Handbook found within.

Your Career Arc

- Great resource is the U.S. Bureau of Labor and Statistics www.bls.gov and the Occupational Outlook Handbook contained within.
- Practical ways to learn about a career? Shadow, internships, and work.

The Big Picture

- What is the goal? Job title? Leadership? Money? Happiness? Growth? Passion? Purpose?
- Verifiable cred-degrees will be the new diploma.
- The key to everything? Perpetual learning.

Sharing and Feedback

- How do you talk about skills, jobs, and careers with your students? When do start? Any one tactic that works well that you use?
- What is your takeaway from today that you can implement with your students?

YOUR FEEDBACK MATTERS!

Please complete a session evaluation at www.pcacac.org/summer-institute.

Thank you!

